RIVER CITY HOMES

River City Homes is a local builder based in Mackay offering the perfect blend of experience and expertise.

The business started in 1999 and has since become one of Mackay's leading building companies, completing more than 300 homes.

The builders behind the company, Paul Zammit and Anthony McCarthy, started their trade in 1994 and by 1998 were qualified and supervising the development of residential homes.

Paul's goal is to build homes in a contemporary style at an affordable price and his vision, combined with Anthony's passion and attention to detail with the construction of homes are the keys to the company's success.

That success has been highly regarded in the industry, with the team collecting 33 prestigious awards in a list that includes Mackay Custom Built Home of the Year, Display Home of the Year and Home of the Year in 2004.

The company followed that success with a State award for Custom Built Home the following year.

Paul says a new home should be an enjoyable retreat that reflects the owner's personality and needs, which is why River City focuses on customising each home to suit the client.

"We make contemporary style homes truly affordable, while being superb in design and finish," he says.
